water.M. KIRKES will speak at Hartford next month and he is expected to outline a policy for his party. "We have plenty of voters," say the Republican leaders, "but they do not know what to believe on public questions."THERE is something ominous in the fact that Russia and England are to have their war vessels on hand just as we know Japan and China wind up their affairs. England manages to get along without any considerable amount of fighting, but when there is a rattle of spurs, she is like an Oklahoma Republican politician—never about.WORTH OF THE CENTRAL AIRLINE.It behoves every loyal resident of the territory to aid and cooperate with the projectors of the Oklahoma Central railroad in their efforts to place the golden enterprise in tangible and permanent shape. The Leader confidently believes that the era of paper railroads has passed in this territory and that eastern capital is being turned into Oklahoma without the hated accompaniment of balloon-juice and wind. As for the Oklahoma Central, we have implicit confidence and faith in the men behind the project and feel certain that they will redeem all promises made. The building of this road will bring increased prosperity to the commonwealth and will give us vast commercial leverage.
New and valuable country will be developed and many inland towns will be immeasurably benefited by being placed in close touch with the markets. As regards the item of freights alone the value of the line, by reason of competition, will be incalculable.
At present business men, in this city at least, are ground down by the burden of excessive shipping rates; and, starting though it may seem, it is nevertheless a stubborn fact that freight can be shipped into territorial points on the Santa Fe and Choctaw railroads south of us, at $10 per car less than can be brought to this city.
This is due solely to lively competition.The proposed road will be an air line over 300 miles in length, running from Coffeyville, Kan., to Vernon, Texas. It will give us a clear-cut outlet from the north and south and place our products one day from St. Louis and the trade marts of Texas. At Coffeyville the road will tap four important trunk lines and will eventually develop into one of the most prodigious feeders in the west.It is useless to catalogue the immeasurable advantages of the Central enterprise; moreover, it would be but prose reiteration. These lines are written merely to keep the blood of public spirit tingling to a blushing Oklahomans to stay at the front with enterprise and brains and render every service possible to the projectors of the Oklahoma Central. That the road will be built and in operation by December next there is not the shadow of a doubt, and in giving publicity to this fact the Leader feels more than ordinary pleasure, since it was the first and only paper to encourage and champion the enterprise from its inception.A man one time a good thing had,
Which people would have prised,

Permanent Assignee.Russell, Kan., March 23.—A creditors' meeting of the Central Kansas Loan & Trust Co. was held yesterday afternoon, a quota of a million lin-guities being represented. Charles P.
Copeland, treasurer of the company, was elected permanent assignee and an appraisal of assets ordered. The company has three thousand acres of clear land and equities in many western farms, but little cash can be realized. The surplus of the company has gone to protect guarantees. The liabilities consist of $25,000 debenture bonds and $225,000 guaranteed first mortgages on Western Kansas farms.

LI HUNG CHANG'S WOUNDS.

Information to Official Circles Which Concern Their Action in His Condition.Washington, March 28.—Although nothing is said at either the Japanese or Chinese legation as to the condition of Li Hung Chang, the Chinese peace envoy, it is known that advices have been received in official circles that the serious results are apprehended from the wound. In fact, the information has been such as to cause some discussion as to the effect his death might have upon the situation in the Orient. It is generally believed it would prevent Japan securing so good terms as she had intended to insist upon.
